

SADI CORNER – February 2021

REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN!

You've Got This! Self- Care Series for Advocates

We are delighted to announce that registration for the monthly Self- Care Series entitled “You've Got This!” is now open! This series takes place each month on the first Thursday of the month. From 2pm- 330pm. It is an open registration so you are able to attend as many sessions as you'd like. You will get email notifications about the current schedule and upcoming events with your registration. Register for the series on our upcoming trainings page.

The first webinar in this series, “The Four Agreements for Advocates” will take place on February 4, 2021 from 2pm- 3:30pm

Shared Language Work Group

We are VERY excited to announce that registration is now officially OPEN for the 2021 A Shared Language Work Group! We have all been hard at work to adapt under the circumstances so that our organizations can still thrive and be a valuable experience for all. In this group, we will be able to discuss language used in and around advocacy by state coalitions and local programs, to help foster better teamwork and more rational communication and decision making.

The shared Language workgroup will meet once a month and discuss the language frequently used, merge the academic with the lived experience in the language, and share ideas on best practices and implementation. There will be group discussions, project activities, and guest speakers.

The group will meet every 4th Thursday, from 2:30pm- 3:30pm, beginning this month, on February 25th. To learn more, contact Erica Blackwood, at erica@nccasa.org.
